Dear Ladies and Gentlemen

Despite all insecurities that are due to the Covid-19 pandemic, we hope this email finds you well. For sure, mental and physical health is the highest property to all of us. However, the scientific community and research interest in the fields of knee joint have not decreased in this time. Due to the pandemic, we do see a lack of possibilities for young scientists and researchers to present their research and results, to learn in discussions and to defend their hypotheses and conclusions during conversations.

For that reason, we are calling for abstracts for the

2ND INTERNATIONAL KNEE DAY – scientific paper online meeting

After thorough review and of the submitted papers, the accepted papers will be presented in a split screen mode from the speaker's laptop and will be streamed live via a webpage to the audience sitting at home. An international faculty as well as the chairmen will comment and discuss on the topic in a constructive and supportive way to hopefully point out flaws and strength of the papers to improve these studies. Furthermore, highlight lectures of world-known researchers will additionally increase the interest of the audience from all over the world.

We would be more than happy if you will submit your scientific abstracts to be presented at the 2nd international knee day.

Best regards,

Wolf Petersen, Sven Scheffler and Thore Zantop
